FIRST ANNUAL CONFERENCE ON TRANSLATIONAL RESEARCH IN MEDICINE

May 7-9, 2009
Sant'Andrea Hospital, Rome

Dear Colleagues,

The First Annual Conference on Translational Research in Medicine of Sapienza University of Rome and University of California San Diego will be held in Rome from 7th to 9th May 2009.

This Conference, that next year will be held in San Diego, builds a great collaboration between the two Universities based on the concept of Translational Medicine. This is the emerging view of medical practice and interventional epidemiology. It integrates research inputs from the basic sciences, social sciences and political sciences to optimize both patient care and also preventive measures which may extend beyond the provision of healthcare services.

The Conference will try to call some of the relevant topics in Medicine: Surgical Oncology, Neurology, Cardiology, Gastroenterology, Rheumatology, Haematology and Emergency Medicine.

Moreover, we will focus our attention on the Emergency Medicine being 2009 the year of Emergency Medicine post-graduated School launch in Italy.

I hope you will enjoy the Conference and our beautiful city.
